MUNICIPAL LABORERS EXECUTE COUP AND DEMOLISH STRUCTURE

Boats Removed and Shack Is Razed During Absence of the Proprietor, Marking End of Long Litigation Over Location

Lessee, in Ignorance of the Move, Says That He Will Decide Later What Legal Action He Will Take in the Case

That historic king of France, who marched up a hill with 30,000 men was outside and outgeneraled this afternoon when thirty municipal workmen, headed by Malcolm Lamonde, chief gardener for the Park Commission, broke into the Lake Merritt boathouse at Twelfth and Boulevard and began to demolish the structure that has been an eyesore and a court contention for years. By night nothing will be left of the building but the flooring, and that may be conspicuous by its absence before midnight. The city officials are determined that the shack will be no more when Sabbath morning dawns and will keep its men at work until that is accomplished. The coup was well executed, neither Crumple, owner of the building, nor W. J. Dick, who owns the boats, being in evidence when the work commenced. Ever since the courts decided that the ground on which the structure stood was municipal property, the Park Commissioners have been at work on its owner in an attempt to have him do away with the place. When that failed it is said it was determined that force would be necessary, and consequently today's action was planned.

ALAMEDA CAR LINE MAY SOON BE EXTENDED

City Council Asks the Oakland Traction Company for Improvements.

PEOPLES COMPANY WILL NOT IMPROVE AT ONCE

Board of Education to Buy Lot for the School Gymnasium.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 23. — Following a brief conference with the committee of the whole of the City Council last night Attorney Edward Engle, representing the Oakland Traction Company, stated that he would confer with the company's officers in regard to the extension of the Santa Clara avenue line down Elgin street to Encinal avenue. This would run the thickly-populated district along High street, south of Santa Clara avenue. The narrow gauge High street line would be continued under this arrangement from Encinal avenue and Elgin street to Park street and San Jose avenue. Engle will report the result of his conference to the council committee at its next meeting.

VOTES BROAD GAUGE PLAN

When asked as to whether the company would lay the entire Elgin street line, Engle stated that it would not, as it is now being operated at a great loss and the outlay for improvements would not be warranted. He said that in September the cash receipts of the line were $738.50 and the disbursements for labor alone were $678.90. This does not account for wear and tear and cost of roadbed and car repainting, he said.

The committee thought that if the Santa Clara avenue line was extended that the broadgauge of the High street line would not be asked.

Engle was also asked to request the company to order that all Santa Clara avenue cars be run to High street and not turned back at Park street, regardless of whether they were late or not.

WILL CONSERVE RIGHTS.

That the rights of the east bay cities in the Hetch-Hetchy water supply, as given under the Garfield permit, should be conserved, was the statement of Mayor Beverly Hodgdon in a communication to the committee of the whole of the City Council last night. Hodgdon asked the council to co-operate with the other bay cities in seeing that these rights are conserved and that representation be had at Washington when the matter comes up. The council committee referred the matter to the public utilities committee, to report Tuesday night.

Mayor Hodgdon stated that he had been advised that the three cities on this side of the bay should pay their proportion of the cost of representation at Washington according to the population. The public utilities committee is to report on the expense that will be involved.

TABLE OF WARNINGS.

The suggestion of William Horst that a table of warnings against disorders should be put in yards and alleys, spreading on the streets of the city be placed throughout the city was referred to the park and playground and the police commissions.

The Peoples Water Company sent a communication saying that it would be unable to make further improvements in this city this year. The letter was in answer to a request that larger water mains be placed in Grove street, from Central to Encinal avenue, and in Elgin street, from Sixth to Seventh streets. The committee referred the matter to the public utilities committee, requesting that the necessity of the larger mains be urged upon the water company.

The Park and Playground Commission was granted permission to use the following sums out of its allowance for the year 1910-11: Lavatories in boys' lodge in Lincoln park, $275; lavatories in boys' lodge in Washington park, $275; lavatories in girls' lodge in Washington park, $250.

PURCHASE SCHOOL LOT.

The Board of Education was granted permission to purchase a lot, 100x150 feet on the north side of Encinal avenue, south of the Porter school grounds, for the purpose of enlarging the gym. The property is to be purchased for $4500.

The street committee reported that it had found no reason for the Orel and Lumber company's complaint against the alleged tying of boats to its wharf at the north end of Webster street.

RECOMMEND SEWER.

The street committee recommended that a sewer be installed in Fenside Boulevard, the new thoroughfare skirting the East End. It is estimated that the sewer will cost about $5000. If this sewer is installed, the city attorney says, owners of lots along the east shore can be compelled to have their places connected with it and not empty sewage in San Leandro bay. The council will now determine where the cost of the sewer can be obtained.

The building committee recommended that the emergency hospital remain where it is, on the first floor of the city hall, until a new building can be erected in the rear of the city hall.

The public utilities committee was requested to report Tuesday night on the proposed improvement of the north end of High street, from Fenside Boulevard to the High street bridge at the entrance of Combsman William Hammond, Jr.

TWO DARING AVIATORS INJURED AT BELMONT Brookins and LeBlanc Have Narrow Escapes During the Race for Aviation Cup

White covered half the course in 11:19.48. He passed his thirteenth lap in 0:21:57, his average time up to that point being a mile a minute. He turned his fifteenth lap in 46:15:22 and his sixteenth in 48:11:04.

Graham-White finished in the elapsed time of 1 hour, 1 minute and 55 seconds. White made extra laps to provide for penalties which might have been imposed during his race. He passed his thirteenth lap in 11:19:48. He passed his thirteenth lap in 0:21:57, his average time up to that point being a mile a minute. He turned his fifteenth lap in 46:15:22 and his sixteenth in 48:11:04.

HITS PHONE POLE.

When Le Blanc was on the nineteenth lap he met with an accident that put him out of the race. Losing control he ran into a telephone pole and his machine was wrecked. Le Blanc was taken to a hospital, but his injuries were confined to slight cuts on the head.

Le Blanc's last time, it is thought by many, would have won him the Gordon Bennett trophy. His time for the nineteenth lap was 52:49:71.

Ogilvie, the second member of the English team to start, was early out of the race. The reason for his disqualification was not at once apparent.

William Hammon and Augustus Van Dusen, the club house on the fifteenth lap, He saved himself by wonderful skill, and, passing the start, turned from the course and went to his hangar.

LATHAM LANDS.

Latham, in his 100 horse power Antoinette, got such a fright when he almost blew him into the crowd that he quit precipitately in the 15th round. The tips of the great wings were not 10 feet from the heads of the people who lined the turn into the far stretch. At the burning aeroplane started toward them, a cry of terror went up, men ran and women buried down into the bodies of their automobiles, in which they had been sitting unmolested in the first.

Brookins banged down in front of the grand stand with a crash that could be heard a mile away. As his biplane shot downward, the fact that it was higher in the air until it finally swept around in a full half circle and landed bottom upward on the turf. The crowd gasped that Brookins had been hurt and underneath his engine, but it was soon seen that the motor had clung to his bed, for the propeller was still churning furiously, digging up bits of turf and earth, which he flew about in a shower.

Brookins worked his way out from under the collapsed framework and staggered for about twenty feet, holding his head in his hands as if in terrible pain. Then he entered and fell. An automobile was driven to his side. He was picked up and rushed to the field hospital.

It was learned that he had no broken bones and so far as could be learned no internal injuries.

SNAPS PHONE POLE.

Le Blanc has three ugly scratches across his face and on his shirt of blood, but aside from bruises he is not otherwise injured and is able to hobble about. So great was Le Blanc's speed, that his 14-cylinder 100-horsepower motor, that when he struck he not only cut his planes in two but snapped off the telephone pole as if it had been a toothpick.

Brookins and Le Blanc out of the race, American depends on Hamilton and Drexel. Hamilton drove a 110-horsepower Bleriot, and Drexel a 50-horsepower Bleriot.

Ogilvie, who flew with 7 laps to his credit, flying to the field after passing the judges' stand, and left only 100 yards to defend the cup.

At present, as the race is over, the turn to the home stretch, took a wide circle over the grand stand and landed on the field with only six laps to his credit.

The race is Graham-White's. The summaries follow: Graham-White, 20 laps, the full distance of 100 kilometers. Elapsed time, 1 hour 1 minute and 55 seconds.

Blanc, 19 laps, 52 minutes, 49.3-5 seconds.

Ogilvie (Wright), two laps, 2 hours, 6 minutes and 38.3-5 seconds.

Latham (Antoinette), 16 laps, 50 minutes, 30.4-5 seconds.

Ralph Johnstone Makes New Altitude Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Ralph Johnstone, the young American aviator, set a new altitude record for America yesterday during a flight from Middle Island, N. Y., to Long Island, N. Y.

The wings of an 85-mile gale he ascended 4700 feet into the air, beating his previous record of 3300 feet and just missing the world's mark of 5000 feet. It was a thrilling battle against the wind through out his hitherto it has been held impossible for an airplane to retain its equilibrium or to hold its position in a gale of such proportions. The American team to defend the Gordon Bennett trophy has been selected by the Aero Club.

was requested to investigate the improvement of the extension of French street in the East End to the Bay Farm Island bridge.

Joseph Burns, who is acting as janitor of the city hall during the illness of E. L. Ward, was made temporary assistant janitor, his claims to be paid by the city.

MILK ORDINANCE.

The council committee of the whole last night decided that an ordinance will not be passed here providing that milk be served in single-service packages. In the brief discussion of the proposed measure, it was asked for by the Board of Health. It was ordered that milk be delivered in single-service packages, that the price of milk would be increased, to cover the cost of the packages, about one cent a quart.

Councilman E. J. Probst declared that he was against the proposed ordinance, because it would increase the cost of milk and would not make the milk better or more healthy.

Arthur Jones appeared before the committee and stated that the milk was not not in delivery but that if it was being the trouble lay in the dairy where it was produced.

The committee unanimously decided to lay the proposed ordinance on the table.

This was the statement of Hart H. North, commissioner of immigration, at his home in Berkeley, to a TRIBUNE representative this morning. North was in Washington, D. FINDS JEWELS STOLEN.

"The presence of the jewels did not recur to me again until I was nearly to New York on my return. Then I looked down and found my hand bag half open and the handkerchief containing the jewels gone. The contents of the handkerchief included a valuable ring-shaped brooch, with two pearl pendants, a $3000 pearl disk on a chain, four bracelets and some pins."

The New York detectives who were at once put on the case learned some time ago, they said, of the presence at the meet of a notorious hand bag crook.

Improvements in Oakland New System of House Numbering to Be Put in Effect to Cover Both Old City and Newly Annexed District

The Street Department has just completed maps for submission to the City Council recommending a system of house numbering, which will completely change the one in vogue. Several months have been spent upon this work. Before the numbers can be given out, however, it is necessary for the City Council to amend the existing ordinances and to adopt a new ordinance which will cover both the old city and the annexed territory. This ordinance is in course of preparation by the City Attorney, and as soon as submitted to the Council a new system of house numbering will be put in force.

DAMS NEAR COMPLETION.

The four restraining dams and storm water inlet which have been under construction by the Street Department in Indian canyon for the past several weeks, are rapidly nearing completion. The concrete core walls have been completed and the rock fill is now being rapidly put in place. Forms for concrete are in place at the mouth of the storm sewer, and the concrete weir and inlet will soon be completed.

The completion of this work means a considerable saving to the city, as heretofore it has been necessary to clean out from the lake shore storm sewer every year a large quantity of sand, gravel and debris that has washed into the sewer from Indian canyon during the heavy rains.

CLEAN STORM SEWER.

The sewer crew of the Street Department under Foreman E. J. Donohoe, have just completed cleaning the lake-shore storm sewer. This sewer was filled up with some 5 feet of gravel sand, washed in from Indian canyon during the past year. The work has been pushed owing to the approach of winter.

It was necessary to use a steam pump to keep the water in the sewer low enough to operate boats. All the material was taken out with 2½ cubic foot buckets. The sand and gravel taken from the sewer was utilized by the Street Department in making concrete for the new storm inlet on Bay View avenue.

The Street Department has just completed placing new street signs on East Fourteenth street, from Twenty-fifth avenue to the city limits at Stanley road, which is now called One Hundred and Ninth avenue. The installation of these new street signs is a source of gratitude to the residents of the annexed district. Heretofore there has been a great deal of confusion owing to the different names and duplications. The present system is very simple, all the avenues being numbered numerically, from First avenue at the lake to One Hundred and Ninth avenue at the eastern city limits.

It is the intention of the street department to put street signs throughout the entire annexed territory as soon as funds are available.

MOSES TO LECTURE ON LATIN-AMERICAN LIFE

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Oct. 23.—President Wheeler announces a course of lectures on Latin-American life to be given by Professor Bernard Moses. The lecturer will deal with the political, social, economic, and diplomatic conditions and problems of the Latin-American peoples.

Professor Moses has just returned from South America; he was delegate of the United States, under appointment by President Taft, to the International Conference of American States at Buenos Aires in July and August, and he was present in Chile in September, with credentials from the United States Government, at the exercises in celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the birth of the nation.

These lectures are open to the public. They will be given at 4 p. m. on Wednesday, in Room 112, California Hall.

METROPOLE MANAGER IS HOST AT DINNER

Miss Hays, who is a representative of the California Tourist and Hotel Reporter of Los Angeles, is a guest at the Metropole for a few days.

Brenner, whose father has been officially connected with the Trans-Sierran Railroad for the last thirty years, arrived from Logansport this week, this being his first visit to the coast, where he contemplates spending the winter.

Miss Hays is the niece of his uncle at the hotel Metropole for an indefinite period.

REAR ADMIRAL HELPS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Rear Admiral Thomas H. Phelps, recently detached from duty as commander of the navy yard at Mare Island, Calif., will be placed on the retired list of the navy November 7 on account of age. Admiral Phelps is a native of Virginia and entered the naval academy in July, 1855.

URGES JOINT MEETING.

"Third.—The third proposition involves the preliminary removal of the county seat to a point of more than five miles distance from the eastern boundary line of the city of Oakland. Upon this being done, the Legislature could pass an enabling act whereby the inhabitants of the territory interested might frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government."

"Second.—Without a constitutional amendment, two methods of procedure might be followed involving only acts of the Legislature. The first would be the passage of a law dividing the present county of Alameda by a line passing from the Contra Costa boundary to San Francisco, five miles easterly to the present eastern boundary of Oakland. The portion eastward would form the new county, and provisions at the same time could be made for a consolidation into city and county government of Alameda county."

"My own suggestion would be, if any thing is to be done at all, that representative men from the various towns interested, and from the outside county, be called together to consider the whole matter."

The Wizardry of Saving

A celebrated poet wrote a poem on "The Wizardry of Wine" and the world said it was great. It was the words made it so—not the wizardry or the wine.

Who can estimate the wizardry of savings? Thousands of people; perhaps not in words, but in sterling worth.

The elevating influence of the wizardry of savings is beyond estimating. Try it. We add 4% interest—that's not legerdemain—it's real.

STETSON OUTLINES CONSOLIDATION PLANS

City Attorney Drafts Letter of Explanation to Directors of Merchants' Exchange.

THREE METHODS OF PROCEDURE SUGGESTED

Constitutional Amendment or Acts of Legislature Creating New County Possible.

At the request of the Merchants' Exchange, City Attorney John W. Stetson has outlined that body the following letter regarding the project of a consolidated city and county government:

"Having noticed in the public press some statements concerning an act to be introduced at the next session of the Legislature providing for a consolidated city and county government, which assumed that, so far as I was concerned, plans have already been matured for that purpose, I beg to present the following as expressing my views at the present time upon the subject:

THREE METHODS POSSIBLE.

"First.—A constitutional amendment might be submitted, so that section 11 of the Constitution would permit a city and county government to be formed of portions of existing counties, and without regard to the provisions of section 3, prohibiting any line of any county to pass within five miles of the county seat of any county proposed to be divided. Should this be carried, a subsequent Legislature could pass an enabling act whereby the inhabitants of the territory interested might frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government."

"Second.—Without a constitutional amendment, two methods of procedure might be followed involving only acts of the Legislature. The first would be the passage of a law dividing the present county of Alameda by a line passing from the Contra Costa boundary to San Francisco, five miles easterly to the present eastern boundary of Oakland. The portion eastward would form the new county, and provisions at the same time could be made for a consolidation into city and county government of Alameda county."

"My own suggestion would be, if any thing is to be done at all, that representative men from the various towns interested, and from the outside county, be called together to consider the whole matter."

TAFT IS THE INEVITABLE CANDIDATE IN 1912

Senator Elihu Root Declares Nothing Can Defeat President Except Crushing Defeat of Party

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. — "If Mr. Taft continues to make as good a President as he is making now, he will be the natural and inevitable candidate of his party in 1912 unless one thing happens—that the people of the United States shall repudiate the administration of Taft by such a crushing and overwhelming defeat of Taft cannot be re-elected."

This was the statement made last night by United States Senator Elihu Root in a speech at the Manhattan Casino.

Root addressed himself particularly to those Republicans who might stand willing to vote against the Republican gubernatorial candidate for the sake of rebuking Theodore Roosevelt, and declaring that Republican defeat in the State this fall would be even more of a blow to the national administration than to Colonel Roosevelt.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

In fact, he said, a Democratic victory in New York would more likely turn the next national convention away from a national administration which would not hold its party together, and toward Roosevelt or "to one of the far more radical leaders now looming up on the political horizon in the North and Middle West."

Contrary to some expectations, Senator Root brought no direct pleas from Colonel Roosevelt regarding his attitude toward the nomination in 1912.

FEELING AGAINST ROOSEVELT.

"A good many Republicans at this time," said Senator Root, "seem disposed to ignore all the grave and substantial issues which are before the people of the State and to vote at the coming election upon no issue whatever, but simply as an expression of feeling against Mr. Roosevelt, whose course regarding national affairs they disapprove for one reason or another, but whom they desire to punish by defeating the party to which they belong, in which they believe, and which they have long loyally supported, because he holds a distinguished and potent place in the councils and activities of the party."

CUTS BOTH WAYS.

"It should be observed that the declaration of this intention cuts both ways. Wherever a man declares it will vote against the Republican ticket because he does not like Roosevelt, there will be others who will vote for the ticket because they do like Roosevelt, and because they feel that with his tremendous force and courage and ability he has done a noble and much needed work for honesty, purity, equality and freedom in the political life of our country. My guess would be that if the issue in this State were whether Mr. Roosevelt had reflected credit and honor to the Republican party, in our State and in our country or the contrary, there would be a very large majority in the affirmative."

"It is said that we must consider now the nomination for the Presidency in 1912. Well, Mr. Taft is President of the United States; a Republican President, a strong, who, considerate and far-sighted man. He has the qualities which make a man grow in the estimation of thoughtful people and living back of all the clamor and excitement of our political life, the American people are a thoughtful people. He has power and is growing and will continue to grow in public esteem."

MEANING OF REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

"If he continues to make as great a President as he is making now, he will be the natural and inevitable candidate of his party in 1912, unless one thing shall happen—that the people of the United States shall repudiate the Administration of Mr. Taft by such a crushing and overwhelming defeat of his party that it will be apparent that Mr. Taft cannot be re-elected. The Democratic party can not bring about such a result, but the Republicans can, by their adverse votes.

SEE GENERAL RESULTS.

"They only see the general result and if it should happen that the Administration can not hold its own party together, the National Convention would be quite likely to look for a Moses to lead them out of the wilderness and they might go to Roosevelt, or they might go to one of the far more radical leaders who are looming up on the political horizon in the North and Middle West."

"Make no mistake, my friends. So far as this election in the State of New York bears a relation to national affairs, Republican votes for the Republican ticket strengthen the Administration in the party and Republican votes against the ticket tend to weaken and break down the Administration."

"No one understands this better than Mr. Roosevelt. No one knows better than he that the strenuous efforts he is making in behalf of the Republican candidates, not merely in New York, but in a dozen of other States, are serving in aid of the Taft Administration and tend toward the re-nomination of Taft in 1912."

STIMSON UPRIGHT MAN.

"It is said that to have Stimson in the Governor's chair would promote Roosevelt's political fortunes. The people who say this do not mean what is undoubtedly true, that Stimson will be such a Governor as to reflect credit on every one who has supported him."

BOURBONS FLOCK TO SAN LEANDRO

Bel-Spellacy Club Presides at Big Gathering; Many On Platform.

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 29.—The Bel-Spellacy Club of Alameda County invaded San Leandro last night with a formidable force of speakers and drew a great crowd to the Masonic Temple where they held their meeting. This is the first time since the primary election since the Democratic speaking has been here and the speakers were well received by the speakers who were Jesse Bryan, J. S. Hamilton, T. O. Crawford and Robert McKinnon.

Crawford was the first speaker of the evening and spoke along the general lines which the party are following and upon the issues that they are coming on. In conclusion of his remarks he said that if he were elected to the office of superintendent of schools of this county, he would lower the expenses were lowered at least one half.

The other speakers praised Theodore Roosevelt and stated that they wanted every man in the hall and in fact every man in the whole county of Alameda who was looking for a good form of government to vote the Democratic ticket. They stated that they were coming to the election to vote for the Democratic ticket and they were coming to the election to vote for the Democratic ticket.

RICH KENTUCKY LAND IS PRIZE IN DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—An empire larger than the entire State of Delaware was at stake in the whole country of Kentucky was the prize at stake yesterday in the Supreme Court of the United States. Presentation of the controversy in oral arguments will reveal an unusual story depicting the western advance of American civilization.

"No man can use him and no man can make a stepping stone of him. He is as big and strong a man at 43 as Taft or Roosevelt was at that age. He runs in that class. He is of the quality of which great public servants are made, and no matter how the vote goes next month, modest, unassuming and unselfish as he is, a great career awaits him, because he is such a man as the people greatly need."

"The idea that Roosevelt contemplates an attack upon our judicial system or that that system is in danger from him or from any one else is purely fanciful and devised for campaign purposes only."

"What gave Roosevelt the leadership of the Saratoga convention? He has no money; he could neither punish nor reward any one; and the controlling political organization of the Republican party was against him. How did it happen that a majority of the delegates voted with him and against the organization?"

"The answer is that there was an issue before the convention in which the people of the State are deeply interested. Roosevelt espoused the right side of the issue against the Republican organization and, naturally enough, he furnished the element of leadership to the side he was with. A majority of the delegates voted with him because upon that issue they people who elected them were with him. The issue was a revolt against the tyranny of the party machines and party machinery. It was a part of that great rebellion which has been going on all over the Union."

"The Democratic State Leaders Brand Story of 'Interests' Aid As False."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—In an open communication addressed to the newspaper editors of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in a sweeping denial of the charges that the reform republicans had agreed to knife the republicans in the election of Theodore Roosevelt. The communication reads as follows:

"Recently the newspaper of the State received the following letter issued by the Republican State Central Committee:

"To Editors:—It has come to the knowledge of Mr. Johnson from a confidential source that cannot be doubted that a fund of several hundred thousand dollars has been collected in this city among those most interested in securing his defeat, to be used in a campaign of outrageous vilification and denunciatory abuse, and for corrupt use to the detriment of his election."

"To minimize the effect of the use of this fund it is of the greatest importance that the public be warned of the source of this fund and its purpose. It is urged with the utmost earnestness that you publish the enclosed items in your columns and give it the most prominent and favorable locations."

"Yours very truly,
(Signed) H. A. FRECH, 'Publicity Bureau'."

"The enclosed items mentioned in the French letter were wild at stories sent out to be used as 'news' fresh from the wire."

"I have been authorized by the chairman, R. H. De Witt, and Secretary John P. Murray of the Democratic State Central Committee and M. F. Tarpey, chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic State Central Committee, to state that the charge contained in the enclosed letter sent out by H. A. French was an unjustified libel."

"The charge that a corrupt fund has been raised with or without the knowledge of the Democratic State Central Committee at the headquarters of the Democratic State Central Committee, Theodore A. Bell or any of those interested directly or indirectly with the conduct of affairs at the headquarters of the Democratic State Central Committee would not allow or countenance in any way the raising of such a fund from the pockets of those not interested in the best government for the State of California."

County, State and Nation Are Aroused by Campaign

KNOWLAND LANDS COMMERCE ACT AMENDMENTS AS AID TO WATERFRONT DEVELOPMENT

Congressman Is Principal Speaker at Big Rally Held Under Auspices of East Oakland Republican Club; Hiram Johnson Praised for Stand

Undoubtedly one of the largest and most enthusiastic Republican rallies that has been held in Oakland since the Johnson meeting in the Macdonough theater last Saturday night was that held last night in Washington hall on the corner of East Fourteenth street and Sixth avenue under the auspices of the East Oakland Republican Club. Congressman Knowland was the principal speaker of the evening and when he arose to take his place on the speakers' platform he was greeted with cheers.

Fully half an hour before the time set for the beginning of the meeting the crowd was so great that Charles Thomas, chairman of the evening and president of the East Oakland Club, was forced to close the doors.

After the applause and cheers subsided Knowland launched into his address. In the course of his remarks he said:

NOT BY MANIPULATION.

"The people have chosen these amendments," he declared, "and there is no opportunity for Republicans to change that. These amendments are placed upon the ticket by political manipulation. I believe in a direct primary, placed upon our statute books by a Republican legislature, then I believe in the amendment to be by supporting your party candidate."

In discussing the amendments made to the interstate commerce act under the Taft administration, Congressman Knowland said:

INTEREST OF SHIPPERS.

"The creation of a commerce act is in the interest of shippers, creating a body of experts qualified to interfere with the shipper's business, and will tend to bring about a greater uniformity of decisions and expedite the adjudication of cases so important to shippers, the commission can now institute an inquiry on its own initiative and suspend the operation of an increased rate; shippers are granted authority to route freight where different routes are overcharged, and to be provided, thus protecting the small investor."

OF VITAL INTEREST.

"These and other amendments are all of vital interest to shippers, but perhaps we of Alameda county are most directly concerned in these amendments which have a bearing at least upon the future development of our magnificent water front. This harbor contains nearly 27 miles of shore line. Here carry an ship can meet for we are on the continental side of the bay. Exclusive of ferry traffic, the annual vessel tonnage is over one million and a half tons, and rapidly increasing. At the last session of congress we obtained the adoption of a new project which provides for a 1-foot channel and calls for the expenditure of over one million one hundred thousand dollars of government money."

ADOPTS PROJECT.

"The board of engineers for rivers and harbors first disapproved this 18-foot project, but since the project was directly reported and then congress adopted the project and made an appropriation to start the work. We hope to see the canal opened by the time the Panama canal is opened."

"Oakland has fought hard for its water front. Millions have been expended by both the state and federal government to improve our harbor prospects are so bright the people of this county hope to enjoy all the advantages which should accrue to a community favored by water front. Water frontage is the greatest regulator of railroads, but if that competition is stifled the millions we are annually spending upon our rivers and harbors is wasted."

COMPETING LINES.

"When the Panama canal is completed we hope to see competing steamship lines plying between Oakland and New York. We do not want the transcontinental railroads to be the only means of reducing rates to a figure that will drive out these water lines, and then raise the rates again when the competition is eliminated. With the threat in mind of a new line of competition, the Interstate Commerce Commission is expected to us provides that when a railroad lowers a rate for the purpose of driving out water competition that rate cannot again be raised unless the Interstate Commerce Commission is shown that such proposed increase rests upon changed conditions other than the elimination of water competition."

MEANT BIG FIGHT.

"It meant a fight to carry this, but it was worth fighting for and by its adoption something practical was accomplished in the interest of the people. We want the rate to be paid for the development of our state, but they must not attempt to stifle water competition. There is ample room for railroads and water competition."

Congressman Knowland, in closing lauded the Taft administration, reviewing the important legislation enacted during the past two years.

STETSON SPEAKS.

Urban Thomas then introduced W. Stetson to the audience and he spoke on Hiram Johnson and the issues which he has taken up in this campaign. In the course of his remarks, Stetson said:

"I have not come here tonight to discuss upon the shining light that we are fortunate enough to have on the Republican ticket, for it would take too long to tell you in what high esteem I hold every man that has signed his name to that ticket. I did come here,

HERING STILL INSISTS ON JOHNSON'S ANSWER TWO LISTS OF QUESTIONS ON THE BROWN CASE

LAST Tuesday night in Berkeley Frank E. Hering, the Indiana orator and professor of languages who is here helping the fight of Theodore Bell, asked Hiram Johnson some questions in regard to his alleged connection with the J. Dalzell Brown stock. The reply Johnson made was to deny that he had received $55,000 in Western Pacific stock as his fee for that he "ever had, ever owned, or was ever interested in a single share of Western Pacific stock."

At Le Boheme Hall Thursday night Hering propounded to Johnson a second set of pointed questions. He said he had a right, as a national officer of a great fraternal order that lost $7,500 by the failure of the bank Brown wrecked to ask all these questions.

The two lists of questions follow and Hering still insists on answers:

FIRST LIST OF QUESTIONS

1. Were you not connected with the District Attorney's office as special counsel in the prosecution of the graft cases at the very time that J. Dalzell Brown, arch wrecker of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, retained you to defend him in his looting of millions from 12,500 depositors?
 2. Did you not make representations to the court officials that if a sentence—so inadequate as to be farcical—were imposed upon your client, he would in consideration give information leading to the return of $1,000,000 to the depositors? On the same ground did you not ask that six indictments against him be dismissed?
 3. Influenced by these representations, was not Brown given a nominal sentence, eighteen months, little of which he really passed in San Quentin? Is he not engaged in business in Los Angeles today? Has one penny of the promised millions of the bank's assets ever been returned through information given by him?
 4. Did you not receive for your services in Brown's behalf stock in the Western Pacific valued at $55,000?
 5. Did you not know that the stock was bought with the money of the depositors and that your client, J. Dalzell Brown, being bankrupt, the stock belonged to the bank? In other words, did you not receive your fee for defending Brown in stock that belonged to those from whom he had stolen it and who desired his punishment?
 6. Will you now return this stock to its rightful owner, so that its value may be distributed pro rata among those who, with sacrifice, saved and, in helpless miser, have seen their savings swept away?
- Will you do this, Hiram W. Johnson, or will your answer continue to be, "I must eat! I must eat!"

SECOND LIST OF QUESTIONS

1. Did you not receive in cash, or its equivalent, $55,000 for defending J. Dalzell Brown?
 2. Did not J. Dalzell Brown have as recently as June, 1909, 90,000 shares of Western Pacific stock? Was not this deposited in whole or in part as security, or else hypothecated to guarantee you your fee of $55,000?
 3. What has become of these 90,000 shares of Western Pacific stock? Have not the pages which would give the information sought for concerning this stock been cut from the books of record of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company? Records not burned, as many think, but mutilated with a knife.
 4. J. Dalzell Brown refused to go into voluntary bankruptcy, and through a legal technicality you defeated the effort to have him made an involuntary bankrupt. This court proceeding would have made known to the public the schedule of J. Dalzell Brown's assets, and would have resulted in the restoration to the depositors of that which Brown had looted from them. Did you have any personal interest, Mr. Johnson, in defeating the ends of justice which would have made common knowledge how much Western Pacific stock J. Dalzell Brown had, AND TO WHAT USES HE HAD PUT IT?
 5. Did you insure to J. Dalzell Brown what he bargained for with you—his early freedom and his retention of his enormous stealings? Even your opponents will admit that you made good; but the public now demands to know from one who would be Governor of California just what part these 90,000 shares of stock, stolen from the creditors of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, played in paying you your fee of $55,000.
- For this stock, as Receiver Frank J. Symmes says, "All belonged to the bank by law or by equity, or both."
- Among these depositors, Mr. Johnson, were women and children who with sacrifice saved and in misery saw their savings swept away. Will your answer continue to be, "I must eat! I must eat!"

REFERENDUM VOTE FAVORED BY SOLONS

Arizona Legislative Committee Reports Proposition to the Constitutional Convention.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 29.—After more than two weeks of deliberation, the legislative committee reported the initiative and referendum proposition to the constitutional convention today, leaving the percentages to be decided by the convention.

The form reported differs in no important respects from the Oregon plan and makes direct legislation applicable to cities, towns and counties, as well as the state.

The executive committee was expected to report the recall proposition later today, but like the direct legislation proposition, it will go to the printer before the debate begins.

The proposition provides for the recall of all public officers. A stirring debate is expected, as many members oppose the application of the recall to the judiciary.

REPORTS BUNCO STEERERS ROBBED HIM OF $150

The gang of bunco-steerers with whom the police have had trouble for some months and who use Emeryville as a base of operations, is believed to be responsible for swindling Nicholas Skorey, recently a resident of Kennett, of $150.

Skorey became acquainted with one of the gang on a ferry boat, and afterwards met other members, who induced him to return to Oakland and go to a place described by him as a "raining quarters."

There he was given wine and induced to engage in a game of roulette. He won at first, but when he stopped playing his small capital of $150 was gone. He reported the affair to the

McKinlay Says Congressman Is Like a Squirrel

FT. COLLINS, Colo., Oct. 29.—Congressman Duncan McKinlay of California, addressing a Republican meeting here last night, made the announcement that he would retire from politics at the end of his term and go on the lecture platform.

"In congress a man is a good deal like a squirrel in a cage," said Congressman McKinlay. "He is always going, but never gets anywhere. There is no satisfaction in a congressional life; lots of bluster, but few accomplishments."

Assistant City Physician Henriksen and Patrolman Shilley, who were in the wagon with the woman, tenderly comforted the woman and child in her home, and neighboring women who were roused from their slumbers aided Dr. Henriksen in caring for the mother and the little child.

Both mother and child were reported last night to be doing nicely.

While a majority of Bell's speeches were necessarily short, because of the limited time allowed the train at many of the stops, he was programmed for extended speeches at San Bernardino, Redlands and Santa Ana.

WOMAN PUTS $25,000 VALUATION ON HER EYE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The value of an eye is placed at $25,000 in a suit for damages brought by J. A. Crepanux and his wife Rose against Dr. J. A. Black, of 2605 Pacific avenue, this morning.

Mrs. Crepanux asserts that she submitted to an operation on November 2, 1909, at St. Mary's hospital where Dr. Black was to remove a cataract from her eye. She alleges in her complaint that he allowed his knife to pierce the optic, and that the substance of the eye was dissolved, and that although he promised that she would soon receive her sight after operating another physician she learned that she would never again be able to see out of the eye which had been operated upon. She therefore seeks for damages.

PRESIDENT TAFT INFORMED HIS NAME IS TABOOED BY LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—It is learned on high authority that President Taft has been advised by members of the California congressional delegation that instructions have been given to Republican speakers by Meyer Lissner, chairman of the Republican State central committee, to the effect that the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, which President Taft signed and indorsed, shall not be commended; that the administration of President Taft shall not be referred to, or, if referred to, the speakers shall go no further than does the Republican State platform, which indorses President Taft only in so far as he has endeavored to carry out some of the Roosevelt policies; that in doing this Roosevelt's name shall be first mentioned and made prominent.

It is further stated that the President has been advised that Chairman Lissner makes the direct statement that the people of California are opposed to the Payne tariff bill; that the Taft administration is a flat failure, and that the people of California do not desire to have it commended.

CURRY PRAISES OLD OPPONENT IN SPEECH

Johnson Lauded by Secretary of State Before Crowd at Meeting.

DECLARES LEADER IS ONE OF ABLEST

Tribute Paid to Justices Sloss and Melvin at the Big Gathering.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—Declaring that Hiram W. Johnson was entitled to the loyal support of every Republican and every advocate of clean, progressive government, Secretary of State Charles E. Curry opened last night in Tammany Hall, Johnson street corner Twenty-fourth and the Republican ticket.

Daniel A. Ryan, vice chairman of the Republican state central committee, shared the platform with Curry and delivered the first of a series of speeches for Johnson and the Republican ticket.

CURRY THANKS SUPPORTERS.

Curry said that the voters of the Thirty-second assembly district, where the meeting was held, believed him to be a loyal Republican when they gave him a substantial majority at the primary polls and for that reason he felt that it was incumbent upon him to come before them, not only to thank them for their support but to urge them to exert that support for the man whom the people selected for the high office to which Curry had aspired.

Cheers for Johnson mingled with those for Curry as the secretary of state faced the audience, and it was some minutes before he could proceed.

APPRECIATES FRIENDSHIP.

He said: "I hope that no act of mine will ever cause any of you who supported me in the past to regret your friendship for me and I hope to retain your personal and political friendship as long as I live."

"I appreciate what my friends in this district did for me and the majority they gave me at the primary election. The people of the state, however, determined upon another candidate for the gubernatorial chair, and I sincerely hope that every friend of mine in this city and throughout the state will vote for Hiram W. Johnson for governor just as they would for me had I been fortunate enough to be chosen as the candidate of my party."

TRIBUTE TO JOHNSON.

"I know Hiram Johnson well and I know that he is one of the ablest men in this state and that he is a loyal and progressive Republican. He will give you an economical and constructive administration, and during his term of office no railroad company or any corporation will control the state government."

"I know that he is the uncompromising foe of corruption in public life, and knowing this man, I believe this of him merely because he says it."

"A man of Johnson's caliber and worth is needed in the governor's office at this time and for the next few years. He knows the needs of the state as no other man knows them, perhaps, and no one is better fitted to discharge the duties of that high office than my personal friend and colleague, Hiram W. Johnson."

Before concluding his address Curry enumerated the leading candidates of the Republican party, and tendered tribute to Justice Melvin and Chief Justice Sloss of the supreme court and to Frank C. Jordan candidate for secretary of state.

SPEECH BY DANIEL RYAN.

Daniel A. Ryan followed Curry. He prefaced his eulogy of Johnson with tribute to the latter's former opponent.

Congressman E. A. Hayes reviewed the history of the present Congress and spoke of the necessity of working in union to secure for San Francisco the Panama-Pacific exposition. Other speakers were J. B. McEllan, C. E. A. Creighton and William A. Kennedy.

DEMANDS NEW PRINCIPLES IN LAW

Roosevelt Wants Progress and Protection to Servants; Writes to Baldwin.

Union Leader Denies the Labor Trouble in Dix's Wallpaper Mills.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Theodore Roosevelt last evening gave out a copy of his letter which he has written to Judge Simon P. Baldwin, Democratic nominee for Governor of Connecticut, regarding labor legislation.

"I have received a copy of your opinion as chief justice in the case of William H. Hooley, versus the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway Company. This was a case in which William H. Hooley, a train hand, an employee of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway Company, was injured while conducting a case of mail in the employ of the company. You presided in the Supreme Court and wrote his opinion declaring the workmen's federal compensation act, under which Hooley sued, to be unconstitutional, so that he was denied the right to be compensated for his injuries."

Section 5 of the act provides: "That any contract, rule, regulation or device, which shall be made, or any common carrier to exempt itself from any liability created by this act, shall to that extent be void."

"In your decision in question, you squarely took ground against the progressive view, which I hold to be essential to the welfare of the workmen of this nation, and, therefore, to the welfare of the whole people. In treating of this opinion of 1907, Law Notes, on October 10, wrote as follows:

"In the course of his opinion he said: 'At common law a servant cannot recover from his employer for injuries received from the negligence of a fellow servant acting in the same line of employment.' This is a part of that general American law resting upon considerations of right and justice that have been generally accepted by the people of the United States."

COLDLY RECEIVED.

"This sentiment would be coldly received, to say the least, by labor unions desirous of securing a workmen's compensation act such as the New York legislature passed and Governor Hughes signed about three months ago. The fellow servant rule is not a divinely inspired rule of right and justice, but the contrary negligence or assumption of risk rules."

"Personally, I feel that it is in the highest degree retrogressive (or, if you prefer the terms, backward and reactionary), to take the view that the fellow servant rule is a part of the common law and as such, to construe it, as you say it does, upon considerations of right and justice."

"On the contrary, I believe that it is in its essence a denial of right and justice, and that the view that the fellow servant rule is a part of the common law and as such, to construe it, as you say it does, upon considerations of right and justice."

SHOULD BE ABANDONED.

"I hold that welfare of all our citizens imperatively demands that the fellow servant rule be abandoned. It is a rule that is contrary to our laws, that is, the written laws, that is, the laws as made by the legislature, and the law made by the judges. Shall before be made by a progressive and not a retrogressive spirit, because only in such manner will we be able to secure the welfare of the workers of this country the justice which is their due."

DENIES TROUBLE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—John A. Dix, Democratic nominee for governor of New York, spent the evening here yesterday conferring with Chairman Hiram W. of the Democratic State committee, and other leaders.

"There is no controversy between labor and ourselves," said Dix, after the conference. "There is no labor trouble in our midst."

Chairman Hiram W. did not give out a statement during the day. He is president of the New York State (Wall paper) printers and related union at Glens Falls, Hudson, Paul and Schenectady, and by the vice-president and secretary and 45 members. The statement says:

"Believing that a great injustice has been done John A. Dix, who has been through by reports circulated in regard to wages paid at the factories of the Standard Wall Paper Company, we declare that the management of the Standard Wall Paper Company is held in high esteem by its employees and that we regret the insinuation that starvation wages are paid any of its employees."

A BAD TONGUE.

Text, "He that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from distress."—Proverbs 10:13.

An ancient story has it that a Grecian philosopher sent his servant to the market telling him to bring back the best thing he could find therein. To the philosopher's surprise the servant returned with a tongue. The next day he gave orders to the servant to buy the very worst thing to be found in the market, and to his greater wonderment another tongue was the result, and wisely did the philosopher commend the judgment of the servant, remarking that the tongue was man's most powerful instrument for good or evil. Picturing the harmful influence of a bad tongue, the sacred Scriptures refer to it in strongest similitudes.

EXTINGUISH GOOD NAME.

Sometimes it is called an "open sepulchre," ever ready to entomb the good name of others, a "venom" that is as mortally poisonous as the snake's; "a spark" that causes destruction of homes and friendships; "a sword" that makes more wounds than either iron or steel; "a poisoned arrow" that pierces at greatest distances; an "iron yoke" to crush the spirit of men; a "bronze chain," which cruelly fetters; a "fire" that consumes fiercely human reputation; a "lion" that devours; a "fever" that causes and spreads more plagues.

MANY AND VARIED WAYS.

Many and varied are the ways in which the tongue works for the cause of evil. Sometimes it is in the lesser form of idle words which make up the useless confabs, trifling gossipings and vain whisperings of self-glories and harmless vanities which consume hours of the valuable gift of time, given to us for higher and better purposes. The uncharitable conversation gives the tongue larger scope for greater evil. In many forms it attacks the peace and happiness of the human family. Sometimes it is the sharp, insulting, sarcastic tongue, and again the tale-bearing, trouble-making friend disrupter or the envious, bitter, quarrelsome disturber.

WORKS ITS EVIL.

Often it works its evil in the shape of the detractor, revealing needlessly the real or fancied faults and foibles of others, or in the more cruel form of the calumniator, lying about others and robbing them of their good name, which as the Scriptures tell us, is better than riches, and for which their restitution must always be made. The impure tongue is the great mischief-maker. By sallies of a misnomer wit that finds humor in vulgarity, by unchaste stories, lewd sayings, filthy witticisms, double-meaning expressions, the impure tongue speaks a language that properly belongs to hell.

BLASPHEMING COMMON.

The most common way in which the evil tongue renders evil is by swearing, cursing, blaspheming, and how terribly common this is. Listen to the boy on the street corner, the laborer in the field, to man everywhere, and then things go wrong and temper is awakened, how vile and varied are the curse words that fall from the ear. Speech is a gift from God. When we picture to ourselves the awful silence of the afflicted mute, his inability to enjoy the conversations of men, his powerlessness to give expression to the best promptings and kindest sentiments of heart and mind, when we realize how handicapped such unfortunate are in life, then we can begin to appreciate the fact that speech is a great gift from God.

GIFT IS OURS TO USE.

It is a gift that is ours to use, but not to abuse, and powerful influence that it is, simple gratitude demands that it be used by us always for the doing of good and never to injure our fellowman, never to aid in the devil's work of obscenity and never to insult the God who has given it to us. A loose tongue, a vile tongue like decayed fruit, grows worse with age, unless effort, firm and severe, is made to control and conquer it.

The only successful way to correct and check its evil influence is to develop the habit of thinking before we speak. Speech is supposed to be the outward expression of thought, but the commonness of loose, vile speech inclines one to believe that with many it is simply a thoughtless automatic noise. Silence is golden, says an old proverb, and speech is silver, and "he that keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from distress."

CALLS HER 'HIS PEARL,' ABSOLVED

Employer Sued by Workman for Alienating Wife's Affections Exonerated.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Oct. 29.—After being out less than ten minutes, an Orange county jury at Goshen yesterday decided that Charles Clemens Schiffner of Warwick, former of New York city, was not entitled to $25,000 because, it is alleged, George H. Beck, a New York business man, referred to Schiffner's wife as "my pearl," my sweet girl." During the trial Mrs. Schiffner testified that Beck also called her "my dolly" and said her husband looked like "an old grandpa."

Schiffner sued Beck on the ground that he had alienated the affections of his wife, Clara, and asked for $25,000 damages. Beck is engaged in the plumbing business in New York city and has a summer home at Warwick. In 1902 Schiffner, who was employed by Beck, moved to Warwick to take care of his employer's estate.

According to the testimony given by Mrs. Schiffner Beck visited her frequently. She said he kissed her and called her "my dolly" and "my sweet girl." Beck also called her "my dolly" and said her husband looked like "an old grandpa."

Despite her alleged relations with Beck, Mrs. Schiffner said she had lost none of her affection for her husband and there fore the jury could not consistently decide in favor of the plaintiff. Beck is about 60 years old and wealthy.

RUSHES FROM ALASKA TO SEE DYING FATHER

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 29.—For more than a month the family of Colonel Thomas Pettor, president of the Thomas Pettor's Sons office works of Philadelphia, who is dying at his seaside home here, has been searching for the colonel's son, William Pettor, who has been on a hunting trip to Alaska since July, in order to call him to the bedside of his dying parent.

Yesterday news reached the family that the son had been located at White Horse, Alaska, a telegram from him bearing word that he had started for home. Immediately arrangements were made for a special train from the Pacific Coast to bring father in all haste to this place as soon as he lands from his boat.

The news that his son is homeward bound caused a great relief to the family, who had been searching for him since he left for Alaska. The journey from Alaska will consume about 11 days.

MISS GEORGIANA SNEATHON, one of the most entertained of the girls of the younger set in this city. —Schurz Photo.

MRS. J. H. HUNT, who is a frequent hostess at her Lake-street home.

NEVER have there been more perfect October days, and Californians are beginning to understand the rare charm that lies in our "Indian Summer" days. They make a delightful background against which the life of today goes on in its busy fashion. These are the daily duties which fall to each one's lot, supplemented by a social round of ever increasing interest. The various women's clubs are all happily organized for the season's work, and their programs are so varied that each woman may find there in something of special interest to her. Luncheons and dinners are along simpler lines, and are usually followed by bridge. There are travel classes, there are musical clubs, there are holiday sewing clubs among the younger girls, and indeed in all people belong to some one special bridge club in which they take absorbing interest. Afternoon tea appeals to many people now, because of the ever-increasing lateness of our dinner hour, and business men here, as well as in New York, are steadily acquiring the restful habit of the late afternoon cup of tea. More men play bridge than was the case a year or two ago, and one of the prominent bridge clubs—that at Linda Vista—is composed largely of men, and meets in the evening.

There are two things you must do on the continent these days—you must be able to play a good game of bridge, and to speak French fairly well. And bridge has invaded France, and gone are the old days of boredom at a lecture. A most fascinating book which many people in London and New York are reading, is entitled, "In and Out of a French Country House," where one has delightful sketches of the old aristocracy of France. Here indeed is the fine flower of social life. There is the most aristocratic old Duchess in this country house, who always sat "uncompromisingly erect in a high-backed chair, innocent of cushions, with her back to the bridge tables as a protest against a game that was the game of parvenues, of arrivistes," that opened the door to all the world one ought to keep out! One of her guests says that bridge is the great leveler; the open door through which every one enters.

And some one else remarks that "it is the pontoon bridge thrown across the most opposite social shores. It is, after all, the game of the age—the democratic game."

And that is quite true. In France they have a new name for the social climber who has arrived. They call her "the arriviste"—but that never affects the Americans—who live in a country where every one who has an ambition at all ought to be climbing. And the social field offers a very good place for results.

After all it is good to live in America, in a young world, full of possibilities, where one can play our favorite game of bridge peacefully without any disagreeable old duchess to remind us of the "arrivistes."

LARGE BRIDGE PARTY AT THE SPRING HOME.

Mrs. John Hopkins Spring and her daughter, Mrs. Newell, were hostesses on Thursday afternoon, entertaining at one of the most perfectly planned and most elaborate bridge parties of the season. Mrs. Spring entertained her friends at her home in Fruitvale, which is one of the most perfectly appointed suburban homes in the county and situated in the midst of spacious grounds, wonderfully picturesque. It makes an ideal environment for a delightful entertainment.

Mrs. Spring was assisted in receiving her many guests by her daughters, Mrs. Wells of Alameda and Mrs. Robert Newell. The Newells have sold their Piedmont home and are intending to build a new residence at "Thousand Oaks" on the upper Piedmont hills. Meantime, they are making their home with Mrs. Newell's mother, Mrs. Spring.

Over a hundred guests were entertained at the bridge tables, and later there was an informal tea, when the bridge players were joined by those friends who do not care to play cards, making the gathering one of the largest of the season.

The drawing room, where Mrs. Spring received her guests, was a lovely color study, the decorations, the gowns of the guests, all adding to a brilliant scene.

The decorations, in gorgeous chrysanthemums, were planned so as not to detract from the home atmosphere, and the interior of the Spring home is of itself among most artistic lines.

Early in the season the gowns at a reception are of absorbing interest. They represent the newest styles, and so also do the hats, and one's friends take on an added charm, for the new costumes planned for the earlier part of the season.

Mrs. Spring was exquisitely gowned in a costume of old rose satin. It was trimmed in the rare Oriental designs that are now so extremely fashionable, and incidentally so difficult to describe. Many of the newer gowns show this Persian trimming, wonderful in its color tones, and in its wealth of geometrical designs.

Mrs. Spring's gown in rare old rose tones was very beautiful, and the costume was set off with exquisite diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Wells of Alameda is a very beautiful young matron—a stunning type of brunette. She made a striking study in a gown of black satin, trimmed in lace, and she wore diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Robert Newell wore a gown of pale blue satin, and her ornaments were pearls and diamonds.

Mrs. William G. Henshaw, who has just returned from abroad, wore a Parisian gown of white lace, beautifully designed. With the handsome costume she wore a long chain of diamonds.

Mrs. John F. Connors was gowned in blue; the costume was of blue marseilles over blue messaline. The costume was set off with a black picture hat trimmed in blue plumes to match the gown.

Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld was beautifully gowned in gray, the gown of chiffon over gray messaline being exceedingly well designed. It was lighted with Persian trimming in superb designs, the whole costume being most artistic and effective.

Miss Carrie Nicholson was also in gray, and her costume was set off with elaborate diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Churchill Taylor was gowned in white broadcloth, trimmed in lace, with a black picture hat.

Mrs. Charles Lovell wore a costume very daintily planned, in soft shades of brown. The gown was planned on the lower Empire lines, and a brown hat with brown plumes completed an artistic costume.

Mrs. Wickham Havens was a very stunning study in a gown of heavy white lace, with a wide black hat trimmed in white willow plumes.

Mrs. Willard Williamson was a very stunning study in a gown of white lace over pink satin, and a wide picture hat in tones of white.

Mrs. Hugh Webster was gowned in black, the gown of liberty satin beautifully trimmed, and the costume completed by a becoming black hat with black plumes.

Mrs. Charles Parcells looked exceedingly well in a costume of soft violet ones. Her hat was specially becoming—a wide picture effect, in lavender tones, with lavender willow plumes.

Mrs. Geo. Gross was also a very effective study. Her gown was in dark ones with Oriental trimming, and her hat, which was most becoming, specially set off the costume.

Mrs. J. Loran Pease was gowned in lavender satin, the handsome gown representing new effects in Empire lines. A most becoming lavender hat completed one of the most perfect costumes at the bridge afternoon.

Among other elaborate costumes at Mrs. Spring's bridge afternoon were those worn by Mrs. Montell Taylor, Mrs. Harry Maxwell, Mrs. Frank Jackson (Gladys Maxwell), Mrs. W. W. Barthwaite, Mrs. Harry Bishop, Miss Jackson, Miss Evelyn Jones, Mrs. A. A. Long, Mrs. George Wilhelm, Mrs. J. P. Neville, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. George De Golia, Mrs. Louise Allen, Mrs. Harry Thomas, Mrs. Frederick Morse, Mrs. Granville Abbott, Mrs. Ireland.

Mrs. Spring's guests also included a large number of people from Alameda and Berkeley, and many friends from across the bay.

At the close of the bridge game very elaborate refreshments were served by Hallahan, many guests joining the card players at the tables.

The prizes were specially well chosen.

en. They were large picture frames in benton brass, showing lovely effects in Florentine designs. The afternoon was most successful, and Mrs. Spring's guests greatly enjoyed the hospitable entertainment planned for them by this delightful hostess and her daughters.

Miss Eleanor Cannon, whose picture appears in tonight's Meddler, is a Portland girl who has been visiting with friends in this city. Miss Cannon is a cousin of Mrs. George Coby Coddling, who has entertained Miss Cannon at numerous smart functions.

Mrs. J. H. Hunt is one of the best known matrons among the fashionable Lakeside district, and entertains frequently at her beautiful home on Lake street, which overlooks the water and the hills.

Miss Georgiana Sneathon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sneathon of Mountain avenue and Domerda, and one of the most feted among the members of the younger fashionable set.

She is a member of the Junior Assembly, which held its initial dance last night.

Miss Helen Breck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Breck of Santa Rosa avenue, and has been visiting at Ben Lomond.

MRS. FRANK BROWN'S BRIDGE AFTERNOON

Mrs. Frank Lamson Brown entertained a large number of guests this week at two of the most elaborate bridge parties of the season. On Wednesday Mrs. Brown entertained a large number of her older friends, and on Thursday many prominent young girls and young matrons were her guests.

Mrs. Brown has made her home one of the most attractive to be found on Vernon Heights, and few hostesses have established so happy a record for generous and abounding hospitality.

The artistic home of the Browns was very lovely, with a wealth of autumn decorations. Great masses of chrysanthemums, beautifully arranged struck a gorgeous color note, and masses of autumn leaves shone brightly in the afternoon lights. The decorations were of rare beauty, and the pictures they made added greatly to one's enjoyment of the delightful afternoon.

The decorations were specially effective in the ball room, where elaborate refreshments were served after the bridge game. The autumn scheme of design was beautifully carried out here. The walls were adorned with autumn leaves and with lovely trailing grape vines, showing the autumn coloring, and laden with grapes. The entire ball room was partitioned off into charming arbors, the walls of which were made of trailing grape vines, and in each arbor was a table arranged for a group of friends. The effect was wonderfully fine. Each arbor was a picture, framing a beautiful group of women, and the long succession of arbors, with the trailing grape vines, might have realized Penryson's "A Dream of Fair Women." It represented one of the most exquisite designs in decoration seen here in many months.

Mrs. Brown brought her prizes from New York, and the prize winners at bridge were indeed specially fortunate. The prizes were large mirrors of exceedingly fine designs, with great carved handles. Other prizes were opera bags of exceedingly fine design. They were in very beautiful tones of pale pink, blues and lavenders, exquisitely fashioned and trimmed, with a treasured mirror as a basis. New York designs are most effective, and the beautiful bridge prizes were really treasures of art.

Mrs. Brown was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Mrs. William Thornton White, and by her guests of honor, Mrs. Charles Miner Goodall and Mrs. James G. Allen.

Mrs. Brown made a lovely picture in a most effective gown in dark tones, trimmed in Oriental effects—one of the gowns now so beautiful in the new styles. Never have gowns been more effective than at the present time, and one frankly admires these newer styles from New York, Paris and Vienna.

Mrs. William Thornton White represents a fine type of the American young matron—capable, popular, well educated. She was also a stunning study in a New York gown, in dark tones, the gown made with a long train and showing the clinging lines of the tight skirt effect.

The bridge party offered a good opportunity for their many friends to welcome home Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Goodall, both of whom truly deserve the warm friendships that fate has sent their way. Mrs. Goodall was very beautifully gowned in black liberty satin, elaborately trimmed in rare lace—very becoming and effective.

Mrs. James G. Allen was gowned in blue satin, showing Parisian effects, the lovely gown being specially well designed.

Mrs. Harry East Miller was attractively gowned in soft chiffon cloth in tones of pale yellow.

Mrs. Willis F. Kelley wore a very handsome costume of garnet velvet, with an over dress in Persian effect. It was exceedingly becoming, and Mrs. Kelley made a stunning and most attractive study.

Mrs. Frederick Cutting was gowned in blue velvet, with empire effect, the corsage effectively trimmed in lace and jet.

Mrs. George Gross, was, as usual, a very stunning study in a gown of black, handsomely designed, and along most becoming lines. The gown was set off by a hat in charming tones of lavender, with a wide willow lavender plume.

Mrs. Charles Butters was in blue liberty satin, and Mrs. Sam Breck was also a dainty study in blue, the gown of liberty satin showing the new effect in a long, clinging skirt.

Mrs. Bernard Ransome wore an empire gown of pink satin, made with a long train, and the corsage trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Paul Dinsmore, who recently returned from the East, wore a very becoming gown in pompadour silk, and showing the new effects now so popular in New York. Mrs. Dinsmore looked exceedingly well, her gown being specially becoming to her blonde style of beauty.

Mrs. Wickham Havens was gowned in black satin, with a wide black picture hat, trimmed in black willow plumes. The beautiful costume was lighted with diamond ornaments.

Mrs. J. R. Burnham was gowned in black and white messaline, the gown beautifully trimmed in lace. She wore diamond ornaments.

Mrs. M. W. Kales was gowned in gray chiffon cloth, the gown made in empire style, and handsomely trimmed in lace.

Mrs. George Hammer wore a most becoming costume in lavender tones, with a most effective lavender hat to match.

Mrs. E. R. Folger was a dainty study in pink. Her gown was of pale pink chiffon cloth, and her hat in pale pink tones was trimmed with willow plumes.

Mrs. J. Loran Pease wore a costume entirely in tones of lavender. Her gown was of lavender messaline, and her becoming picture hat was also in tones of lavender.

Mrs. Robert Knight, who is one of the most popular of the younger matrons as well as one of the most attractive, wore a handsome gown of white broadcloth, with a becoming hat to complete the costume.

Other gowns of the afternoon were those worn by Mrs. A. A. Moore, Mrs. Prentiss Selby, Mrs. George Percy, Mrs. M. W. Kales, Mrs. A. Schilling, Mrs. E. A. Heron, Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. George De Golia, Mrs. Charles Butters, Mrs. Egbert Stone, Mrs. George Hammer, Mrs. Ernest Folger, Mrs. J. Loran Pease, Mrs. George Gross, Mrs. Willis Kelley, Mrs. Frederick Cutting, Mrs. Arthur Crellin, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Allen Babcock, Mrs. Edward Henshaw, Miss Bais, Mrs. Arthur Munson, Mrs. N. A. Aker, Mrs. J. R. Burnham, Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Wingate, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Miss Marie Dyer, Miss Sallie Hampton, Mrs. Q. A. Chase, Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. Samuel Breck, Mrs. Bernard Ransome, Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Samuel Hubbard, Mrs. Charles Hubbard, Mrs. Mary Williams, Miss Mollie Connors, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. J. P. Neville.

On Thursday, Mrs. Brown again entertained, making some of the younger matrons and her young girl friends her guests. The bridge game was most interesting, since so many of the young people now play an exceedingly good game.

Among those included in Mrs. Brown's Thursday list were Miss Charisse Lohse, Miss Rose Kales, Miss Elsie Schilling, Mrs. Frank Proctor, Miss Mollie Mathe, Miss Johanna Volkman, Miss Beatrice Simpson, Miss Carmen Sutton, Miss Madeline Clay, Miss Edith Beck, Miss Bessie Reed, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs.

Charles Tripler Hutchinson, Miss Alice Knowles, Miss Josephine Johnson, Miss Taft.

A feature of Mrs. Brown's bridge parties was the very beautiful music given by the orchestra, which played well chosen selections during the hours of the afternoon, adding to the pleasure of the bridge games, and adding to the success of Mrs. Brown's two delightful afternoons.

OAKLAND PEOPLE ABROAD.

Many well known Oakland people are to be abroad this winter, among them Miss Janet Haight, Miss Isabelle Percy, Mrs. William CMC, Miss Jean CMC, Mrs. John L. Howard, Mrs. Schoonmaker, Mrs. H. K. Belden, Miss Nadine Belden, Mrs. A. A. Penoyer, Richard Penoyer, Gardner Penoyer, Mrs. Roland Oliver, Miss Grace Wishnau.

Mrs. Penoyer has educated her two sons abroad. Richard Penoyer, who is an exceedingly good linguist, is preparing for the diplomatic service, and Gardner Penoyer is studying architecture at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris.

Miss Janet Haight is planning to spend the winter abroad, and will travel with friends from New York. Shortly after the earthquake, Miss Haight sold the old family home on Alameda street, and built a new home at Linda Vista. But she has not spent much time in Oakland, preferring life in the Eastern states.

Miss Isabelle Percy, the talented daughter of Mrs. George W. Percy, is to be abroad this winter, and has settled down to study and work in a studio at Munich. Miss Percy has spent the entire summer traveling with friends, and she has written home the most charming letters descriptive of her travels in Southern Europe, especially in Spain. She is an artist who has done exceedingly good work, and the future is full of promise for her.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Layman are in London, but they will return to Oakland before the holidays. Meantime the young people of the family are at the Perata Apartments where they will spend the greater part of the winter. The Laymans have not decided upon rebuilding their Oakland home.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Palmer are planning to close their home in Alameda, and to go across the bay for the winter, having taken apartments at the Fairmont. Mr. Palmer's railroad interests keep him in San Francisco and along the lines of the Northwestern, and it is better for his family to remain in San Francisco during the winter months. Mrs. Palmer will be greatly missed from our side of the bay, for she is a gracious, unselfish hostess, whose gener-

SUICIDE PACT ENDS TWO LIVES IN JAIL

DISPATCHER TAKES OWN LIFE

William E. Davidson of Southern Pacific System Turns On the Gas.

Nervous Collapse Brings On Melancholia and Is the Cause of Act.

With his nerves shattered since the breaking point and suffering from melancholia, William E. Davidson, a veteran employee of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, committed suicide this morning by turning on the gas in his room at the family residence 272 Central street.

Davidson has been with the railroad company since 1885, commencing as a boy in the telegraph department and working up to his position of "dispatcher" (clerk). The constant nervous strain required to do his job had taken its toll on his health and he was obliged to leave his position last October.

He was ill with melancholia and at times with fits of despondency over his poor state of health for the last month and was constantly despairing of his failure to regain the control of his nerves. He seemed to be improving and the family thought he was getting better.

GAVE NO INDICATION

He gave no sign of his intention and his life last night but some time before dawn his tortured nerve became too much for him to bear. He turned on the gas at full force and lay down to await for death.

Shortly before eight o'clock this morning Mrs. Davidson was awakened by the smell of the escaping gas and going to her husband's room found him dead. He had left no message and it is thought his act was due to a sudden impulse.

Davidson was well known to railroad circles through his long connection with the Southern Pacific Company. He was about fifty years old and had lived in Oakland for many years. His wife is greatly distressed by his death.

Incidentally several new features in connection with the dynamiting of the Times building have come to light and the work of the sleuths who are endeavoring to capture the trio of gang leaders in the plot are a different victory.

MERCHANTS CONTRIBUTE LIBERALLY TO CAUSE

Fish Pond Will Be Among the Many Interesting Features of Entertainment.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the First Hebrew Congregation met Thursday evening in the interest of the bazaar which will be given in aid of the new temple fund November 28 and 29. Reports were received from the different committees and all were most encouraging. The Merchants of Oakland have responded liberally to the requests of the women for aid and much cash and merchandise has been received.

Mrs. Mary Shapiro is making special preparations for the fish pond which she will have charge. She will be assisted by fifteen other young women all of whom will be dressed in oriental costumes. It is said that never before in the history of the congregation has so much interest been shown in the present.

In order to create more enthusiasm Mrs. M. Hirschman gave a dinner to fifteen young men at which the bazaar was the chief topic of conversation. All pledged their support and will do all they can to make the bazaar a success.

DELL-MOORE BOU IS GOOD ONE

Several times during the past week we said that the Dell-Moore special event was worth the hunt proved that it was worth more than special action.

It well a corker from the beginning to end as both men are entitled to all kinds of credit for what they have made in the Moor who was the champion of the term he wanted to go all the way in showing he had it. In the other events Charlie Rogers and Ray Campbell fought six rounds to a draw. Eddie Schroed put away his opponent in the first round and J. Kirkpatrick took Tommy Hunn away in the first round. Billy Silver defeated the last three contestants and the winner the last two. The bouts start d promptly at 8:30 and were run off rapidly so that the fans were out of the building by a little after 10 o'clock. This show was well attended and proved highly satisfactory to the fans.

AIR CHAMPION LITTLE GIRL IS

The Danites is perhaps the only play of the singular poet and journeyman writer who called himself Joaquin Miller but was originally named Clarence Miller. He was born in Indiana in 1841 but was taken by his parents to Oregon where he became a miner, writer, adventurer and for years lived with the Modoc Indians. In 1860 he returned to civilized life, started a newspaper and on short acquaintance married a contributor to the paper whom he was afterwards divorced.

In 1870 he went to England where his vigorous and passionate descriptions of the life and scenery of the Pacific Coast won him many admirers. It was there he adopted the name Joaquin which he had borrowed from a Mexican bandit and used in of his publications. His Songs the Sierras and Songs of the land are valuable contributions

American literature. In 1880 he returned to America and roamed over the country contributing to various journals.

Afterwards he lived as a hermit in California until his death in 1902.

The audience of women and children had gathered to witness the presentation of a play written by Mrs. Milton T. Fox to represent Italian superstitions. The plot being to scatter the superstitions by the entrance of Truth. The stage was decorated with carnations, gerberas, cornflowers and autumn leaves, the temporary stage having been arranged in the school room of the church. The curtain was on a world scene, the chief figure being Mrs. Denny in the role of a witch.
